From the Desk of the Chief Editor

Dr Meena J. Panikker
Principal – Sharada College, Talapady

This Semester was quite a busy one. It seems as if it started and ended rather quickly. Apart from the various events and performances that our students showcased, there is yet another one that did not have any mention in the whole newsletter. Our students, Mr. Rohan R. J. and Mr. Bhavish Shetty did one documentary on fishermen and the challenges they face in the deep blue waters. For this, they went early morning to Dakke in Mangalore and interviewed a few fishermen and fish merchants to understand their lives. The Documentary, 'Reeling the Deep Sea Fishing Secrets' will be available in our YouTube for enthusiasts. This is the Editor's Pick in The Sharada Gazette.

Further, Lakshmisha Tolpadi wins the Kendra Sahitya Akademi Award for his collection of essays, Mahabharatha Anusandhana Bharatahayatre. He is a native of Shantigodu village in Puttur taluk of Dakshina Kannada district

This semester also marks the end of the year, 2023. On the national front, India has been on the front pages of many an international journal – the reason being our successful mission to the moon on the dicey South Pole, launching Aditya – L1 mission, etc. India is trying to become more gender sensitized by introducing the iconic Women's Reservation Bill 2023. At the same time, legal recognition to same sex marriages has been denied. Indians also witnessed the initiation of amending the age-old colonial rules to suit our present needs, an important one of these being against rash driving and escapade. Further, we also see that the SC upheld the abrogation of Article 370. National Integration and prime focus have been the key areas this year. The abrogation of Article 370 happened much later and even before that we had covered that topic in our SAGE lecture series.

While there have been many tragedies and accidents that shook India including terrorist attacks on our soldiers, and an international trial in Qatar on our Navy veterans, India has also seen how miraculously Silkyara labourers were saved after seventeen days of tireless efforts. That India always is concerned about its citizens was once again reiterated through Operation Kaveri – its mission in conflict-stricken Sudan.

On the international front, India's G20 presidency and unprecedented unity has hit the headlines. 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam' is not just a theme but a message shown by India to the entire world. India's billion-dollar economic assistance to civil-war torn Sri Lanka and allocation of 200 crore budget to Afghanistan apart from the monetary assistance to Bhutan and Maldives testifies it. Apart from the multiple wars that continue to shake the global peace, there is also a substantial amount of geopolitical tensions that have surfaced for India. We stand in solidarity with the war victims and at the same time we resist any actions of terrorism.

And, India's GDP had seen a huge swell at 7.6 growth rate in the July- Sep. qtr. promising that there would be an exponential growth on the economic front in the years to come. India's Nifty 50 Index also hit a 16% high. In eight key infrastructure sectors there was a growth of 12.1%. Coal, crude oil, natural gas, refinery products, cement, steel, fertilizers, and electricity contributed 40.27% to IIP (Index of Industrial Production). Various Production Linked Investments (PLI) schemes have boosted the manufacturing sector though the sector continues to contribute only 17% of the GDP. India's exports are expected to reach US$400 billion by the end of the fiscal year.

In the Sports arena, it was really heart-breaking to watch the Indians lose the title in the ICC Cricket World Cup. But, India rejoiced at Virat Kohli's 50 ODI record shattering Sachin Tendulkar's unscathed achievement for twenty long years. While I grew up hearing Viswanathan Anand's name for Chess Championships, our students will hear R Praggnanandha's name who became the youngest chess player to fight for the FIDE World Cup Final. Further, India has displayed exceptional talent in shooting as well. Rhythm Sangwan is a name that everyone will remember.

In 2023, India lost M. S. Swaminathan, the father of Green Revolution, Satish Kaushik, Rio Kapadia, Leelavathi, noted actors, Salim Durani the famous cricketer, Srichand P. Hinduja, founder of the Hinduja Group, Prithvi Raj Singh Oberoi, Chairman Emeritus of The Oberoi Group, etc.

The deaths of the advertising veteran Sylvester daCunha, the man behind the iconic Amul Girl 'utterly butterfly' campaign, and the passing away of Anup Goshal whose song, 'Thujse naraz nahi zindagi...' attained more popularity than he achieved was deeply mourned. While in early 2023, Kannada writers, K. V. Tirumalesh and Sara Aboobacker, G. H. Nayak and veteran journalist from Karnataka K. S. Sachidanda Murthy. Dr K. Byrappa, Former VC of MU passed away in July 2023. In Ullala, we mourned the passing away of the veteran Kannada writer and folklorist, Amrutha Someshwara

Now, with the resurgence of Covid JN-1 variant and the way India is battling out paves way for a healthy 2024. A key finding of 2023 was that the lineage of Bunts and Nairs, Hosala Brahmins, and Thiyyas trace to the north-east nomadic tribes carried out by the Centre for Cellular and Molecular Biology (CCMB) and the Centre for DNA Fingerprinting and Diagnostics (CDFD).

As the College is meticulously planning for the events of the next semester, will the next semester be more exciting? If you got any new ideas to make the coming semester more exciting, feel free to write to us.

Here's an Interview by Mr. Charan K. with Mr. Sanjan R. who adorns our cover page.

When I became the TIGER

Q: At what age did you become a 'tiger' and what inspired you to become one?

A: I was 16 when I first did the huli veshha and –performed. People who did the tiger dance marvelously inspired me.

Q: Whom do you call your 'guru'?

A: The credit goes to most of my friends, I have not had a formal induction – just like it happens in classical dance, but the one name that I wish to remember in particular is that of Yagnesh Ullal who started performing at the age of three. It's been sixteen years since he's in this field. Mainly, he has taught me this art form.

Q: We have seen you perform with the fire. Are you very adventurous and what other stunts do you perform?

A: I love adventure. On a scale of ten, I would say that I am on nine. I perform fire stunts and I do Webster flips.

Q: Are there any rituals that you follow?

A: Yes, We have to do puja of the tiger mask and the costumes on the day of the performance. We have to seek the prior consent of our parents and it is believed that unless we seek their consent, we may not be able to perform well or even get injured. There is a small vrata or shudhi that we have to maintain and that is remaining vegetarian at least for three days before the act.

Q: What about fitness and whether you have had any injuries?

A: I did not have any major injuries just one small bruise in my ankle... but that was in the initial days. A person who performs as the tiger has to be very agile and flexible – so, fitness should be there.

Q: Do you get paid?

A: There's something called pilimala which is like a garland of notes. People who are stellar performers get huge malas worth 30k and all. I have got a two thousand worth mala last navarathri. It is not about the money actually, it is about the honour and the recognition that is invaluable.

Q: Tiger Dance is performed by anyone?

A: Anyone who believes in and loves the art form can perform it provided they do the rituals especially maintaining the shudhi properly. I had a friend who's a Christian and he performed the tiger dance when we were in school.

Q: How long will it take for the preparation?

A: It depends on the paint, the design that you want and the number of participants in the group. If there are a large number of participants, obviously the preparation will go up to ten hours or so. If it's wall paint that is used, it takes 10 hours to dry. The same is not the case of metallic paint that is used for the stripes, it dries faster. On the contrary, if it's distemper it will take only one to two hours.

Q: What about washing the paint off after the performance? And, the food?

A: Some paints go easily but nevertheless we have to scrub it off. Some paints are stubborn and take some days to leave their marks. Either way, every huli is fine with it. We have to have food before the painting starts. And we have to stand in a particular posture for the paint to dry. But during the performance, there will be many people.
